If you could teach courses on any subject, at any level, what subjects would you teach?

If you had $600,000 to invest in 3 business ventures, what kinds of businesses would you invest in?

If you were an excellent writer or journalist, what topics would you want to investigate and write about?

If you could switch jobs with 3 people, what jobs would you select and why?

What local, societal, or world problems interest you?

There is a conference focusing on the topics you have always wanted to learn about: they are:

What classes or subject areas fascinate and absorb you?

What subjects do you most enjoy reading about?

What are your favorite hobbies or pastimes?

What subjects do you enjoy discussing with your friends?

What did you dream you would be when you were young?

If you could make money doing whatever you wanted, what would you do?

If you could intern at any business or organization right now, what would it be?
